and was immersed in animal welfare and healthcare, and Decker is a part of a racing family whose pets were an integral part of their lives.

Decker and Dr. Butzer join Pet King Brands' other brand ambassador, Manny the Frenchie, the world's most-followed philanthro-pup.

"This has been an exciting year as Pet King Brands celebrates our 20th anniversary and we are honored to have Natalie Decker and Dr. Lindsay Butzer partner with us as brand ambassadors," said Pamela Bosco, company founder, president and animal welfare advocate. "They are pet lovers just like us and have the passion to help animals live enriched, happy lives through the use of our enzymatic solutions that provide relief for ear, skin and mouth conditions without the side effects associated with antibiotics."

Pet King Brands' ZYMOX Dermatology and Oratene Brushless Oral Care offers pet parents and pet healthcare professionals solutions for problematic pet ear, skin and mouth conditions without antibiotics or harsh chemicals. Since first being introduced twenty years ago through veterinarian clinics nationwide, Pet King Brands has distributed over 1 million bottles of its flagship product ZYMOX® Otic Ear Solution and continues to expand its pet health products line, bringing relief to pets and hope to pet parents who have struggled with helping their pet with chronic ear and skin issues.

About Pet King Brands, Inc.

Pet King Brands is led by President and Founder, Pamela Bosco, who first introduced ZYMOX® to the veterinary world in 1998. Based on years of research, she knew she had a product that was going to change the way people managed pet ear infections. Pet King Brands' patented LP3 Enzyme System is used in the most complete and complex enzymatic dermatology and oral care products available on the market for both small and large animals. Its ZYMOX Dermatology products remain a stark contrast to other products on the market, offering effective solutions that are easy to use, free of harsh chemicals and antibiotics, and made in the United States. In addition to its skin topicals, Pet King Brands' product family includes ear care products, brushless oral care products, shampoos and conditioning rinses. Pet King Brands also manufactures Equine Defense® a line of enzyme-based products to care for horses and other livestock' hoof and skin needs.

The ZYMOX and Oratene® lines represent true advances in the field of veterinary healthcare. Bosco
